“ *We will miss our Aunt Diane greatly. She was always so considerate, remembering everyone's birthdays and spending holidays with our family. I will always remember fondly the surprise 40th birthday party she threw for me at her home. She and George went all out with food, decorations, and games for the kids. My mom, her sister Gail, had passed away a couple of years earlier and we sent balloons into the sky with messages for my mom attached to them. Amazingly, just after we sent them up a rainbow appeared! It was like my mom received them and was speaking to us. Rejoice that Diane is now in the company of my mom in heaven! “ My sister, Diane, and I enjoyed watching our younger siblings grow up from infancy. One time one of the babies was having a bad time and no one could keep her from crying. In Diane's spontaneous and witty manner, she made up a cute and comforting song. Diane's composition went, "Pick up your face, be happy! Pick up your face, be happy! That did the trick, the little one stopped crying and started cooing.
