“ I was watching CMT tonight, and the country artist Tyler Hubbard was on, performing and raising money for disaster relief efforts from Hurricanes Helene and Milton. It made me think of the day in March 2010 when I was working at the radio station at Olivet Nazarene University, and Mackenzie who was an ONU student at the time, came running into the studio crying, and hugged me and told me that Tyler had passed away. I remember that moment, and I think of your family.
